THE 5 SENSES

ABOUT THE BOOK

This book was made by Beatriz Azevedo as a project for the Master's thesis in Graphic Design at ESAD. It's intent is to explore the five human senses through different materials, printing techniques and methods.

Regarding the content, this smelly book explores the United States' celebrations throughout the year of 2022. All the information was retrieved from nationaldaytoday.com, a website that provides information on all of the celebrations and holidays from the USA as well as some international and worldwide celebratory days. The days will vary between cultural, social and irreverent events. Most pages contain a direct sensory stimulation between the celebration and a human sensory receptor, or various. The sour exploration extends itself throughout 365 pages — the number of days that compose 2022.

Made to provide a direct stimulus of the senses, when too bland, should be read in a cold, hot, dark or sunny ambient.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR USE

Due to the various papers and materials present, the book should be handled with care. On some pages, you will have to smell, othres rub, or eat, or listen, or see in the most various ways, touch different textural surfaces.

Eating and smelling is encouraged, much like time and a sensory stimulus, the book is meant to be ephemeral.

Throughout this “The Senses” different senses will be explored such as Vision, Touch, Taste, Smell, and Hearing

When such senses are stimulated in a page, a coloured circle corresponding to a particular sense will appear.

The book is meant to be stored inside it’s box, so that it’s expiration date can be prolonged.

“So much of our daily experience is an assault on our senses. Our senses are forced to serve as the interface for unrelenting friction and conflict instead of the pathway to inspiration, coherence, and beauty. We are designing the invention of a new medium — the medium of LIVE — all senses design.”
